LITTLE RATTEY.

BY B. RUSH SOLDER.

[The St. Louis Times says: The following from the New York Standard is intended to commemorate the heroism of a little newsboy, of the New York Evening Telegram, who, when the Westfield exploded, plunged into the water and saved several children from death. Little Jim Conners deserves such immortality.]

A wandering gamin of Gotham—
 A rude little boy of the street—
You would call him a child of the gutter,
 With his naked and earth-besoiled feet;
Yet he had a brave heart in his bosom,
 A soul that can dare and can do—
But we'll let the lad tell his own story,
 And I'll vouch on my honor 'tis true:

"My name, sir, is simply James Conners,
 But, as I'm a bit of a sport,
The boys do not call me by that name,
 But nickname me "Rattey," for short.
On week days I peddle the papers,
 Because I'm fond of the news,
And sometimes, when bus'ness is slack, sir,
 I blacken the gentlemen's shoes.

"I was down by the river last Sunday—
 The day of the terrible shock—
A-fishing, along with my brother,
 For catties and eels in the dock,
When a sound as of steam in escaping,
 And then a report like a gun—
Then my brother was down in the water—
 But I thought it was only in fun.

"But I went for him then, I bet you!
 But Lord, he was out in a wink;
And, I tell you, things got to be lively—
 You didn't know half what to think;
But I saw two half-drowned little babies,
 And heard their poor, pitiful cry,
So I slung off my shoes and my jacket,
 Determined to save them or die.

"Well, I got them safe out in a minute—
 Grabbed one by its wee little skirt,
And brought them away to their mother,
 All soaked, but more frightened than hurt;
Then I dived in the dock for some others,
 And saved—oh, a dozen or more;
But then I got weak and exhausted,
 So I swam back to the shore.

"I tell you, now, matters were lively—
 You didn't have time to stand still—
There was only one way, sir, to save them,
 And that was to work with a will;
'Twixt the fire and the steam and the water;
 'Twixt the fragments of wreck and the rest;
I didn't have much time for thinking,
 But did what I felt to be best."

All honor to the brave little Rattey!
 He may not be handsome or smart,
But somehow beneath his torn jacket
 He hideth a big manly heart;
Untaught in the maxim of morals,
 A child of the slums and the mire,
He fathomed his duty and did it—
 Aye, did it 'twixt water and fire.

Vallandigham's Last Speech.

The following is an extract from the last speech of the late C. L. Vallandigham. At the conclusion of the Ohio Democratic State Convention, at one o'clock in the morning, Mr. Vallandigham being called for, arose and said:

"In the valley of visions there were many bones and they were very dry. And the spirit said, "Can these bones live?" And he prophesied, and there was a noise and shaking among the dry bones and breath came into them and they arose and stood upon their feet, an exceeding great army, the army of Democracy rallied again!—[Applause.] And he said. "Watchman what of the night?" And the watchman said, "The morning cometh and the night also, the dark night of death to the once pursuing but now broken ranks of Radicalism, [cheers] and morning, glorious, bright, resplendent, light and life-giving morning to the once disheartened but now heroic and rallying hosts of the Democracy!

I am not here as the Messiah, but as an apostle, and the least of the apostles—not of the new departure, but of the grand restoration to old Democratic doctrines and principles and to Democratic victory. [Cheers.] To-day we have sent forth tidings of great joy all over the land. The Democratic party now stands on the great vantage ground of the present, and offers battle to its enemies—hand to hand and shoulder to shoulder it marches forth and meets its enemies in this struggle upon the living issues of the present hour, [cheers] and upon these issues we will triumph. I feel it. Not throughout the whole length of the State of Ohio only, but from the other States, and from one end of this nation to the other. Joy and rejoicing, to-morrow, will ring from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the lakes to the Gulf of Mexico, that at last the Democratic party is ready to crush them as in former days it did—and that once more there is hope that this old battle-worn Republic of ours, bearing, it may be, the scars which it has received in the recent grand convulsion, will yet live, and in that spirit in which the fathers framed it." [Applause.]

THE GULF STREAM.—A writer gives the following graphic description of the Gulf Stream: "There is a river in the ocean. In the severest drouth it never fails, and in the mightiest floods it never overflows. Its banks and the bottom are of cold water, while its current is warm. The Gulf of Mexico is its fountain, and its mouth is the Arctic seas. It is the Gulf Stream. There is in the world no other so majestic a flow of water. Its current is more rapid than the Missisippi or the Amazon, and its volume more than a thousand times greater. Its waters, as far out as the Carolina coast, are of an indigo blue. They are so distinctly marked that the line of junction with the common sea water may be traced by the eye. Often one-half of the vessel may be perceived floating in the Gulf Stream water, while the other half is in the common water of the sea, so sharp is the line and the want of affinity between these waters; and such too, the reluctance, so to speak, on the part of those of the Gulf Stream, to mingle with the waters of the sea. In addition to this there is another peculiar fact. The fishermen on the coast of Norway are supplied with wood from the tropics by the Gulf Stream. Think of the Arctic fishermen burning upon their hearths the palms of Hayti, the Mahogany of Honduras, and the precious woods of the Amazon and Oronoco."

INFORMATION WANTED.—About twenty-five years ago, there was an American U. S. Consul named Laurie Lowry, at La Guira, Venezuela, who, after resigning his office, went to the mines in the southern part of that South American Republic, and afterwards emigrated to California. If he or any of his family be living, we have some information that may be of service to them. Please address Editor New Age, San Francisco, California. Brother editors will do us a favor by republishing this notice.

TWENTY-NINE prisoners broke out of the Nevada Penitentiary on Sunday evening. Lieutenant-Governor Denver and five of the guard were wounded, and Bixby, proprietor of the Warm Springs Hotel, was killed. A large force is in pursuit.

THE DOCTOR'S SUBJECT.

[The scene opens in Dr. Metcalf's study. Harry Lane, a young farmer, called for his bill. The amount was one hundred dollars; he demurred at the price, and hesitated to affix his signature to a note for this amount payable in six months, for he saw little prospect of meeting the payment from the profit of his farm. The Doctor hinted that there was a way in which he could easily cancel the note. He was in want of a subject for dissection, and could pay this sum for a body. Harry Lane indignantly spurned the idea of becoming a grave robber, and left the Doctor to his reflections. Another scene introduces the reader to the home of a drunkard. Dr. Metcalf beseeches his sister, Mrs. Morris, to leave her husband, whose intemperance had reduced her and her children to poverty and want. If she would leave him he would care for her, but not without. But she would not desert him whom she still loved, and for whom she still had hope.]

Night set in before Harry Lane arrived home, and when he reached the gate, his wife, a pretty little woman, met him with a lantern.

"I'm so glad you've come, Harry,', she said, in a relieved, overjoyed tone.

"And why, my little puss?"

"I've been afraid all the time."

"Afraid?"

"Yes, but do come to supper before you unharness, Harry."

"And of what were you afraid Em?"

"Well I'll tell you. George Morris came here a little while after you left. He came and sat down before the fire, and acted dreadful strange. Pretty soon I found out he was about half drunk."

"And what did he do?"

"Nothing, only drink and talk and drink, and I was so afraid of him. I've heard so much of being killed by drunken men, and he was so dreadfully drunk, Harry. Well, he stayed until near dark, and then he emptied the jug that he had with him and fell over dead drunk."

"In the house?"

"Yes."

"And he is there now?"

"Yes."

"Perfectly insensible?"

"Yes, as insensible as a log."

Harry Lane gave a sudden leap into the house with a wild hurrah, that quite startled his quiet little wife. He had nearly unharnessed his team, but he replaced the harness as quickly as possible.

"What are you going to do Harry?"

"Hitch Bonny and Fleet to the sled again."

"For what?"

"Never mind. You are sure that Morris is insensible?"

"Yes, he has been so for half an hour."

"Ha, ha, ha!" laughed the young man.

"Whoa, Bonny, stand still, Fleet, my man—ha, ha!"

"Why, what does ail you, Harry; are you crazy? What are you doing, for pity's sake?"

"Just wait and see, Mrs. Em."

Harry fastened the horses to the bars, and ran up the well-trodden path to the house, followed hastily by his wife."

"Get me a sheet, quick, Em!"

"What for?"

"Never mind—there, that's it. Help me to wrap this fellow up in it. He'll make a capital subject—ha, ha."

"What are you going to do?"

"Never mind—just take hold of his feet, Em; steady now, that's it. Don't think me crazy, I'll tell you about it when I get back. Have supper ready when I come."

George Morris was placed on the sled. An hour afterwards, Harry Lane knocked at the back door of the Doctor's office. The worthy Dr. Metcalf presented himself.

"Where shall I take the body?" he questioned in a low tone.

"Right through into the dessecting room and lay it on the table. There, I thought you'd think better of it, and you've been quick too. Stopped at the graveyard as you went along, didn't you?"

"And the note?"

"Here it is, you are welcome to it, Mr. Lane. You're a good hand at such little matters, and I shall have to call upon you again."

"If you like the subject, I may be able to furnish you more of the same kind," replied the young man, tearing the note into strips, and closing the door with a "good evening, Doctor."

Dr. Metcalf chuckled to himself, well pleased with his success. For half an hour, perhaps, he sat in his office chair, whiffing a fragrant havana. At the end of that time he took up the candle and went into the dissecting room to see what kind of a subject had been brought for his class to work upon the next day.

He held the candle in his left hand and turned back the sheet with his right. The fumes of liquor met his nostrils. He started with a ludicrous combination of anger, surprise and amazement upon his countenance.

"George Morris, by all that's evil!" he ejaculated—"Drunk?"

Dr. Frank Metcalf saw that he had been sold, and to the tune of a hundred dollars, too. His first determination was to give Harry Lane a piece of his mind; his second to have the value of his money at any rate. Students are generally in for sport, and those in the institution superintended by Dr. Metcalf, were no exceptions to the general rule. Several choice spirits among them were sought out by the victimized Doctor, and instructed in the subject under consideration, and the part they were required to perform. Everything was in readiness about the time George Morris awoke from his drunken stupor.

He looked around—ghastly skeletons, horrid, grinning skulls, fleshless bones, met his gaze on every side—he tried to move; he could no more have raised an arm or foot, than he could have flown. A dim light revealed all this to his astonished gaze—a moment more he was in impenetrable darkness.

Suddenly right before him in flaming characters, he saw the word Perdition! He trembled, he groaned, he shrieked in terror. Was he in the abode of the lost? Again a dim light revealed by his side a horrid figure, that might have represented the prince of darkness.

"Mortal one," spoke a ghostly voice, "you have come to this dreadful abode for the sin of drunkenness."

"Mercy! mercy!!" shrieked the trembling man.

"Mercy! that never enters here. Behold! you have brought your own ruin upon yourself."

Again all was darkness. Groans, horrid yells and shrieks fell upon his ear, ice-cold fingers passed over his face, and dreadful pinchings were inflicted upon various parts of his body. He shrieked aloud—he gave vent to his agony and terror, in groans and cries for mercy.

"You were a drunkard when living," said an unearthly voice.

"Oh! yes—yes!" groaned the unhappy man.

"You had a good wife and interesting children."

"Oh, yes, dear Satan, the very best of wives, the loveliest of children."

"And you left them to suffer and starve. O, you incorrigible man!" said an unearthly voice.

"Alas, yes!"

"And therefore receive your reward!"

And the pinchings and burnings were continued, and an almost intolerable odor of sulphur beseiged his nostrils. Again he shrieked and pleaded for mercy.

"O, mercy, mercy!"

"You had no mercy upon the wife who loved, the children who cried for bread," said the unearthly voice, "yet upon one condition you may return to them."

"And then, what is that? any condition."

"And remember I shall watch you, and if you ever cause that noble wife of yours a tear—"

"Oh, I never will!"

"Then remember," said the ghostly voice again, "remember!"

Chloroform rendered the miserable man insensible. In that condition he was conveyed to a barn near by, and placed in a manger, there to recover himself as best he might.

George Morris never again drank of spiritous liquor. He became an industrious man, a tender and provident father. One day he told his wife in confidence, that the reason he had reformed was because he appreciated her generous devotion, but I know better.

For a while Harry Lane was a little shy of the Doctor, but when he did meet him, the worthy Doctor shook him warmly by the hand, saying that he did not particularly wish for any more subjects, he thanked him very much for the one he had brought him, as by that means a most inveterate drunkard had been reformed and a broken-hearted wife rescued from the very brink of the grave.

Harry Lane asked no questions, but when the name of George Morris was proposed a few years afterwards for the nomination of County Judge, he gave a peculiar whistle, and said in a low tone, "Well, it all comes from being the Doctor's subject!"

A Romantic Marriage—Twice United.

An Illinois paper, the Knoxville Republican, tells the story of a romantic marriage which took place in that town on the 15th instant. The bride was Mrs. Almena Williamson, of Knoxville; the groom, Philander Williamson, of Stockton, California—and the parties had been married before. The mystery is cleared up in the following narrative from the local journal:

The bride and bridegroom were united in marriage in early life in Warren, Herkimer county, New York, at the house of the bride's parents, Richard and Mary Gardner, then residents of that place. By the same ceremony a sister, now Mrs. Timothy Moshier, of Galesburg, was married to Mr. Abel Gardner, who, though of the same name, was in no way a blood relation. Mr, and Mrs. Williamson soon after removed from New York to Michigan, locating near what is now the city of Albion. Michigan was then new, it being over thirty years ago, and they experienced all the hardships of frontier life amid half civilized whites and savages. Mrs. Williamson being very young, only about twelve years of age, brought up in abundance, soon grew disconsolate at her fate, and sighed for her old associates. So oppressed and overwhelmed was she, that while fond of her husband and her married life, she became anxious to see her mother. It happened that after being in Michigan two years, her parents removed from Herkimer county, New York, to Knoxville, Illinois. On their way they visited their daughter, then in the wilds of what is now the State of Michigan. No meeting of parents and child could ever have been more affecting and joyous. The separation however was at hand, and in the conflict between parental love and that of her husband, the former prevailed, and taking her only child, a daughter, Mrs. W. accompanied her parents to Knoxville, with whom she resided until their decease. Her child, Marcelia, was reared and educated here, and died in the flush of womanhood.

The separation, though mutual, always exercised the mind of Mrs. W., and for thirty years, though no good reason existed for parting husband and wife, they walked widely divergent paths. Subsequent to their separation, Mr. W. married an estimable lady, moved to California, became a citizen of Stockton twenty years ago, where he now owns property of considerable value. By his second wife he had three or four children. The scond wife having died some years since, and Mr. W. being situated so as to greatly need a wife, visited his relatives in New York and Michigan, and made his way there to be united, from choice and convictions of duty, with her whom he had chosen in his youth.

The meeting was peculiar and romantic. Mrs. Williamson, the day he called on her did not know her early spouse, so great had been the work of time. Suffice it to say the past was revived with its pleasant and painful memories, the re-marriage agreed upon, the happy pair came to the old homestead, were united in wedlock, standing in the parlor where Mrs. Moshier, the bride's young sister, married her present husband, who was in the beginning married by the same ceremony with her sister. Last evening they passed through this city on their way to their home in California.

AN earthquake on the 21st of August shook the entire west Coast of South America severely. The sea was greatly agitated, and for a time it was impossible for vessels to enter the ports.

THE price of passage from San Francisco to Sacramento in now $4—formerly $3; to Marysville, $5 50—formerly $4 50.

The Causes and the Results.

It is about as useless to speculate upon the causes of the defeat of the Democracy as it is to cry over spilled milk; but there are facts which stand out in such bold relief as to challenge the attention of every one. Months ago a struggle took place in the party for and against the policy of subsidizing railroads. The advocates of subsidies were not content with defending their position upon its merits, but were so indiscreet as to assail Gov. Haight and arraign him at the bar of public opinion upon his record as Governor. When the Convention assembled, the delegates, fresh from the people, endorsed Haight and renominated him for Governor. His enemies in the party were overcome, and we believe many of them gave him a cordial support. But the evil effects of their onslaught upon him were felt during the campaign and plainly seen in the result. Their declarations were seized upon by our adversaries and used with telling effect before the people. Then there is very little doubt that some of those who opposed his renomination if they did not openly oppose his election, quietly gave aid and comfort to the enemy. The result in San Francisco can be accounted for upon no other hypothesis. These facts, taken in connection with the disaffection among the Germans, and the accession of two thousand negro votes, fully account for our defeat.

But, turning from the causes, let us look at the results of the election. The people have decided at the polls that in future there must be a compulsory common school system in this State. They say in effect that private schools shall be abolished and all parents be compelled to send their children to the public schools. They have decided that Haight was wrong in his opposition to railroad subsidies, for every man of common sense and ordinary intelligence knows that the plank in the Republican platform against subsidies was simply a bid for votes and nothing more. They have endorsed Grant's administration with all its iniquities, including the Ku-Klux bill, bayonet Act, proscription, persecution, corruption and nepotism. The Germans have virtually declared in favor of the re-enactment of the Sunday law, and the workingmen in favor of placing themselves again under the heels of capital. But worse than all this, is the fact that California is virtually committed to Chinese immigration, cheap labor, citizenship and suffrage, for just as certain as the wheels of time continue to revolve, two years will not roll around before the barriers against Chinese citizenship will be thrown down by amending the naturalization laws. The man who doubts this in the light of the history of the Radical party is a fanatic, a fool or a lunatic. This self stultification and unintelligent action of the laboring classes, is very discouraging to their friends who have spent their lives in advocating their claims without the hope of a fee or reward, when the blandishments of the money power offered fields more inviting, because more profitable. We who have made defense of the cause of the poor the specialty of our political lives, have a right to complain when the very classes we have defended at a sacrifice that cannot be estimated, go back upon us and condemn our course. We shall not laugh at their calamity, or mock when their fear cometh, but an honest judgment will declare that their punishment is just. The idea of working men supporting the Radical party—the party of monopolies, of high taxation, of favors to the rich and oppression for the poor—is so absurd as to be productive of disgust. We turn from the sickening picture we have presented to call upon the people to shake off the fatal spell that has bewitched them, and rally once more to the support of right and justice. Let the Radicals understand by the popular expression in October that, although they triumphed in September, their principles are not endorsed.—Sonoma Democrat.

POINTS OF SUNRISE AND SUNSET AT DIFFERNT SEASONS.—Were you to stand upon the north poll of our earth, the sun would during the Summer time, never set, and on the longest day of the year would move round and round, always 22½ degrees above horizon. When, on that day, you were 22½ from the poll—thus at latitude 77½ (the polar circle), you would see the sun at midnight just touch the horizon, and your day would be still 24 hours long without night. This takes place at Tornea, in Sweden, and the people from more southern regions go there on that day on excursions to see the phenomenon of the sun not setting at all. If you go more south, the length of the night increases, so that at 50 degrees latitude it is about 5 hours long; at 40, about 8 hours; and at 30, 11 hours. Between the tropics, the sun rises and sets at 6 the whole year round; Why we, in our latitude, see the sun longer than 12 hours in Summer, and shorter than 12 hours in Winter, above the horizon, is that in Summer its apparent motion is in a circle nearer to the north poll, and in Winter in a circle nearer to the south pole; The sun moves in a great circle (the equator) only on March 21st and September 21st; at all other seasons, in smaller circles nearer to the north pole, and higher up for us in Summer; and as these smaller circles, which all have the north pole for their center, are visible in our latitude for more than half their circumference of the horizon. It is difficult to explain this in writing as well as it might be done in a few minutes verbally with the help of a globe and other apparatus adapted to teach astronomy.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION.—Peter Anderson, the negro editor of the negro paper Appeal, at San Francisco, is the author of the compulsory education plank in the Republican platform, and he says in his issue of August 5th, that that plank means that if the Republicans succeed, they will pass laws compelling parents to send their children to schools, such as may be prescribed by statute, without distinction of color, race, previous condition, etc.

DIED OF GRIEF.—A beautiful young Spanish girl, named Luisa Ayala, aged 16 years, died lately at Banderitas, Mariposa county. A younger sister, named Lindana, an equally beautiful and extremely sympathetic girl, was so afflicted at the loss of her sister that she became sick, and, ten days after the death of Luisa, died of grief. Both sleep in the same grave.

Twenty-Nine Convicts Escape from the Nevada State Prison.

One Man Killed, and Prison Officers Wounded—The Lieutenant-Governor Saved by a Convict—Troops in Pursuit of the Fugitives.

CARSON, September 18.—At six o'clock, last evening, the wind was blowing a gale, and the whole valley was filled with a blinding dust. A desperate break was make by the convicts in the State Prison, which terminated in the death of Matt. Pixley, of the Warm Springs Hotel, the wounding of nearly all the officers of the State Prison and several of the prisoners, and the escape of twenty-nine as desperate villains as ever trod the earth. At the hour named, all the prisoners being in the cell-room, Volney E. Robins, Captain of the guard, entered the room as usual, for the purpose of locking the convicts in their respective cells for the night. Just as he stepped inside the door, a prisoner struck him on the top of the head with a bottle, cutting a gash three inches and a half long, and almost at the same instant another struck him with a slung-shot over the left eye, cutting to the bone. He fell bleeding, but not senseless, and as he sank, half a dozen convicts rushed at him to deal the death blow, when Pat Hurley gathered Robins by the body and threw him into an adjacent cell and closed the door, thus saving his life.

All this took place without alarming the guards outside. The prisoners then climbed to the top of the upper tier of cells, and proceeded to cut a hole large enough to admit the passage of a man's body through the wall into one of the rooms occupied by the family of the Lieutenant-Governor. Each prisoner had provided himself with a piece of iron or steel sewed up in his clothes, and some of them had knives of their own manufacture. Rushing into the room occupied by Mrs. Denver, her mother and daughter, the break of the prisoners was first discovered and the alarm given. Instantly they were met by Lieutenant-Governor Denver who fired on them. The break appeared to be under the leadership of Frank Clifford, a ten-year horse thief, from White Pine, and at him the Warden directed his fire. The Lieutenant-Governor had been followed up stairs by Robert Dedman, a young man in for life, who was acting as servant in the officers' quarters. Dedman shot Clifford near the navel, and disabled him.

The tide poured on, and soon Lieutenant-Governor Denver was struck in the back of the head with some sharp-pointed instrument that penetrated to the skull, and on the forehead above the eye by a slung-shot, which opened the skull for a distance of three inches and a half. This felled him to the floor, when the convicts rushed upon him, seized his pistol, and fired at him. As the officer fell, Dedman seized a chair and fought like a tiger, knocking down no less than five of the prisoners, one of whom he knocked over the balustrading and down the stairs. His heroic conduct doubtless saved the life of the Lieutenant-Governor, and was the theme of universal praise in this city as soon as it became known. Dedman himself was eventually knocked senseless, and left for dead, but he was only slightly injured.

Wounded as he was, Clifford made his way down stairs, followed by the crowd, who at once seized the armory of the prison, the office, clothing, amunition, etc. Matt. Pixley, one of the proprietors of the Warm Springs Hotel, hearing the firing, and imagining the cause, seized a six-shooter, and in company with a man named Perasich, rushed into the prison yard to assist the officers. The convicts were still inside the guard-room firing through the main door of the building at Isaacs, Newhouse and Perasich. Pixley rushed up to the window, and commenced firing at the prisoners inside, when Charles Jones, a ten-year young man from White Pine, fired at him through the window. The ball, probably from a Henry rifle, carried away two panes of glass, and struck Pixley just below the left eye, passing entirely through his head. He fell upon the stone porch in front of the prison, dead.

Dr. Lee went to the prison to attend to the wounded officers, all the wounded prisoners having been carried away by their comrades. He found that in addition to his other wounds, Lieutenant-Governor Denver had received a shot in the right hip, which passed up the back, and lodged near the spine. Dr. Lee extracted the ball.

Following is a list of those who escaped: Frank Clifford, from White Pine County; J. B. Roberts, Washoe; Patrick McCue, David Lunch, White Pine; E. Ingram, Nye; E. B. Parsons, Washoe; Ed. Bigelow, White Pine; Chris. Blair, Storey; J. G. Watson, Elko; Thos. Flynn, Washoe; Thos. Ryan, Lander; Charles Jones, White Pine; T. Cockerell, Washoe; Pat. Murphy, Ormsby; John Squires, Washoe; M. Pruill, Douglas; Wm. Willis, Storey; J. E. Chapman, Washoe; Leander Morton, Elko; Tim McNamara, Wm. Forest, Storey; Dan Bake, Thomas Carter, Elko; John Jacks, Lincoln; Moses Black Lincoln.

A WHOLE COUNTY SUBMERGED—PEOPLE SWALLOWED UP.—Savannah, Sept. 18th.—A most wonderful story is told here of a startling phenomena in Florida. A large portion of Orange county has changed to a lake, trees, houses and people being engulfed. There were many witnesses of the phenomenon, all of whom say the first thing that attracted their attention was the trees moving, first a grating motion of trees, some sinking gradually out of sight, the tops revolving more and more rapidly as they sank and disappeared; the others following, and as they fell revolving and describing a series of circles against the sky; the whole earth, as far as the eye could reach sinking, and its place supplied by a sea of water rushing, seething and boling with the noise of a mighty cataract, and ever and anon casting to the surface the trunks and tops of pines and oaks. The country in every direction is entirely submerged, and is now one vast lake. It is rumored that the town of Orlando is swallowed up, and the whole chain of lakes from Apapka to Lake Conway are now united and form an immense inland sea. The people are flying, terror-stricken, from the scene of disaster.

VIRGINIA CITY BURNED.—A fire in Virginia on Tuesday evening last destroyed nearly the entire city. The loss has been estimated at $2,000,000.

SANTA CRUZ.—This county gave Booth a majority of 436, and yet the Democratic candidate for Senator was so popular that he is probably elected.

"OVERLAND."—W. B. Bartlett has retired from the editorial management of the Overland magazine, and will be succeeded by Frank Soule, a finished scholar long connected with the press. The magazine will certainly lose nothing by the change.

SENATOR PENDEGAST'S MAJORITY. Pendegast's Senatorial District is the Eighteenth, and composed of Napa, Lake and Mendocino counties. Ford was the opposing candidate. Pendegast received majorities of 593 in Mendocino and 175 in Lake—total 768. In Napa, Ford had 258 majority, which, deducted from 768, leaves Pendegast the good round majority of 510 votes.

"THE GOLDEN CITY."—This excellent first-class San Francisco literary journal has changed hands, and will hereafter be published by Gus. De Young & Co., who will spare no pains to still further increase its popularity. The Golden City is a very large weekly paper, and is certainly not surpassed, if equalled, as a family literary paper, on the Pacific Coast, and has few superiors anywhere.

WOMAN'S WRONGS. — On election day in San Francisco, says an exchange, all the male employees were given the day to induce them to work for and vote the Republican ticket. Some twenty females employed there, however, were compelled to work on that day some four hours longer than usual. The Rads understand women's rights, and make them politically useful by compelling them to do overwork while the men play and electioneer.

COST OF RADICALISM.—The New York Express says: "Each tick of the clock for the last ten years has added $8 28 to our National debt, and every time the second hand has made a complete revolution, $496 80 have accumulated to that already weighty incumbent. At every inhalation and exhalation $16 56 have been put upon the debt side, and during the time we take to consume our dinner, at least $9,936 have been consumed by the Radical party at Washington.

STATE FAIR.—The State Fair at Sacramento during the week has been more largely attended than ever before. A look through the Pavilion satisfied us that California is not behind older States in her productions of every description and in many of which she excels all her sisters, particularly in grapes, silk, and the like. We noticed a splendid variety of grapes on exhibition by R. B. Blowers, of this town, one bunch of which weighs fifteen pounds. Others of our neighbors exhibited fruits, also, but we did not happen to see them. Jimmy Asbery had the finest lot of hams and bacon on exhibition, and a hermaphrodite steer, a dwarf calf, and a double cow in a side show at the Agricultural Park. The display of blooded sheep and cattle was very fine and numerous. The Yolo raised horse "Atchison" won the two-mile race, distancing both his competitors, and beating even "Norfolk's" best time. On Thursday there were 5,000 to 6,000 persons on the fair grounds. Sacramento has had a harvest during fair week, and we have not heard as many complaints of people being fleeced as heretofore.

CONTEMPTIBLE.—We have not, and do not intend to court the negro vote, but we do claim that every legally qualified voter has the right to cast his ballot for whatever candidates he pleases, whether Republican or Democratic. The Mail has information that a negro in Cottonwood voted the Democratic ticket, whereupon its fiery indignation is aroused, and while the "right" is conceded, the Mail says "if that darkey had his deserts he would be a slave to-day and remain so his whole life. He is an exception, and would have the contempt of his whole race, if he were not beneath contempt." There is the kind of love and friendship these Republicans have for the negro. They would reenslave the whole batch of them if it were in their power, rather than they should vote against the Republicans. The truth is that the Radical party is the friend of the negro just so long as he will vote to keep that party in power, and no longer, as the Mail unwittingly admitted in its last issue, from which we have quoted. But unless we are mistaken, the better informed and more intelligent portion of the negroes will find out ere long that they are being made tools of by their pretended friends and will desert them, not in single instances, like this to which the Mail takes exception, but by thousands. Then what wailing and gnashing of teeth will come from the aforesaid paper and all of its kind.

THE JUDICIAL ELECTION.

As our readers are aware, an election for two Judges of the Supreme Court, a Superintendent of Public Instruction, a County Judge, and Justices of the Peace in the different townships, takes place on the 18th of October. It is of the first importance that the best men be selected for those positions. Each party has its candidates in the field. To our mind those nominated by the Democracy are in every respect best fitted for the positions for which they have been nominated.

Judge Temple, nominated to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Judge Sanderson, is deservedly popular all over the State, and that popularity has been gained upon the bench, in the faithful, able and impartial discharge of his duty. That he will be elected we have no fears, provided a full and fair vote is polled.

Judge Wright, our nominee for the full term, to succeed A. L. Rhodes on the Supreme bench, is also an upright and able Judge, and stands very high with the bar of the State, and with the people; particularly so in San Francisco, where he is best known, and where he has for years been Judge of one of the city courts.

Of Superintendent Fitzgerald, we scarcely need speak, as he is personally known to most of the residents of this county. He has made a reputation during the last four years, such as none who preceded him in that office in this State ever enjoyed, and the high standing of the public schools of California to-day, is a proud vindication of his ability and skill. The Political Elevator, a woman's organ of San Francisco, in a late issue said: "The public schools of this State are as good as the best in the world. They have, for the four years that they have been under the charge of O. P. Fitzgerald, been steadily improving in character, and gaining the confidence of the people. To change Superintendents now would be a public misfortune." And we believe this expresses the sentiment of all candid, unbiased, thinking people.

Our candidate for County Judge needs no praise at our hands. He has, as an efficient and faithful Supervisor, suited all classes of our people, and we may safely say was never excelled upon the Board. After having served one full term of three years, he was reelected by an immense majority, showing the most unqualified faith of his constitents in his integrity and capability. That he will make an excellent County Judge there is no doubt, and he will be elected by a large majority.

There are Justices to be voted for in all the different townships, but we believe no nominations have as yet been made.

The general majority given the Democratic candidates in this conny in the late contest is proof that Yolo can give a good account of herself at the coming election. Democrats, falter not; make up your minds to turn out, every man of you, on the 18th day of October, and vote the straight Democratic ticket. If you do so, we can carry the State and county tickets entire, and elect all our candidates. Such we hope and believe will be the result.

Assessor's Statistics.

From the statistical report of J. J. Ammons, Assessor of Yolo county, we obtain the following information. The report is for the year 1870:

The number of acres of land inclosed was 136,337; under cultivation, 144,041, which produced 1,384,300 bushels of wheat, 292,130 of barley, 2,850 of corn, 12,480 of beans, 12,480 of potatoes, 5,400 of sweet potatoes, 1,260 of onions, 38,000 pounds peanuts, 14,745 tons hay, 100 of beets, 40 of turnips, 356 of pumpkins and squashes, 107,500 pounds of butter, 4,650 of honey, 201,425 of wool, and 2,000,000 silk cocoons. There are 3 breweries in the county which produced during the year 37,000 gallons of malt liquors; 11 distilleries, which produced 84,700 gallons of wine, and 5,500 of brandy. There were in the county, fruit trees and vines as follows: Apple 23,638, peach 34,942, pear 7,675, plum 3,942, cherry 2,647, nectarine 1,023, quince 884, apricot 3,526, fig 3,070, lemon 17, orange 217, olive 16, prune 215, mulberry 82,722, almond 3,337, walnut 2,310, gooseberry 940, raspberry 1,150, grape vines 546,350. Of live stock, there were in the county—9,773 horses, 1,167 mules, 17 asses, 298 bulls, 6,449 cows, 2,869 calves, 1,644 beef cattle, 40,285 sheep, 18,193 hogs, 41,726 chickens, 3,250 turkeys, 573 geese, 518 ducks, 346 hives of bees. The following improvements are noted: 3 steam power grist mills, with 10 run of stone; 2 irrigating ditches, irrigating 15,000 acres, and valued at $15,000; 2 railroads, 32 miles in length.

The assessed value of real estate in 1871 is $1,947,382; of improvements on the same, $728,985; of personal property, $1,609,690. The estimated total population is 10,000; resistered voters, 2,235. Amount of poll tax collected, $2,930.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS CHANGE.—Messrs. Thomas & Hunt have purchased the entire stock in trade of F. S. Freeman, who has for so many years been in the mercantile business in Woodland, and who, having been recently elected to the Legislature retires from business. We learn the large brick grain warehouse has also been leased with the store. The stock has been invoiced and possession transferred. Large piles of new goods will soon be added. Thomas & Hunt are well known throughout the county as heavy wheat buyers and fair dealers, and they will do a very extensive business. Mr. G. J. Cole will continue with the firm in the store and be pleased to see all his friends in his new quarters.

BRIBERY.

There is no doubt but that bribery is carried on to a fearful extent at elections in this State, and for aught we know in other States. According to the Bulletin, in every ward of San Francico clubs were organized and maintained—three, four, five such clubs in one ward—for the sole purpose of leeching upon candidates by the bummers composing them; that saloons, obscure newspapers, and even those who had claimed to be respectable men, had sent surreptitious or false bills to candidates in the hope of fleecing them; that the bummers hunted candidates into their offices, into their houses and through the streets for money, and that men in batches offered to sell their votes at $5 each, or if they could not get that they would take $2 50 or even $1—and they had no principle in the premises—they sold to either party, always to the highest bidder.

The same thing says the Bee, was carried on in Sacramento, only in a lesser degree, and so prevalent is this evil that no poor man can run for office, either in the nomination or election, with any hope of success when parties are nearly balanced—and no honest man wants to go into the market to purchase votes, even if he had the means.

That there was open bribery in our own county, we are not prepared to say; but that men were influenced in their votes is susceptible of abundant proof. This is all wrong. Every citizen should have the freedom and secresy of the ballot, uninfluenced and untrammeled.

We believe there is a law for the punishment of bribery at elections, and if so it should be enforced. A man who would sell his vote ought to be deprived of the ballot for life. And the buyer is equally guilty, for if there were no market there could be no sale. The penalty should be upon both parties. In the Canadian provinces proof that a candidate used undue influences, even in a single instance, nullifies his election. It should be so here.

The Examiner publishes the charge of Judge Sepulveda to the Grand Jury of Los Angeles, which covers the ground admirably and is sure to have a beneficial effect. We append the charge and ask a careful reading of it:

GENTLEMEN OF THE GRAND JURY: I would be untrue to my duty did I fail to bring to your attention, in a special manner, an evil which is growing and spreading in an alarming degree—an evil which threatens the purity of our political institutions—which is sapping the morality of our citizens, and which, at no remote time, is calculated to place our Government in the unutterably disgraceful position of the Roman Empire, which, at one time, was sold to the highest bidder. I refer to the buying and selling of votes, and the corruptions attending our elections.

If to instill into the minds of men moral principles contributes to their happiness in social life, no less essential is it to their political integrity to inculcate healthy ideas and impress them with the necessity of keeping ever pure the exercises of the right of suffrage, thereby avoiding the maladministration of public affairs, the elevation of unworthy men to office, and the train of evils which ensue from it.

The example afforded by corrupt practices at elections is debauching the rising generation, and the social as well as the political fabric resents it profoundly. The evil is assuming such a magnitude that it becomes the imperative duty of all who have anything to do with the administration of criminal justice to interfere, and with vigor and without fear to interpose their authority to redeem society from the danger it is in. The law, it is true, is not sufficiently ample in its provisions, and additional legislation is required to reach all the bad practices which occur at elections; nevertheless, some of the offenses which are committed at those times are certainly amenable to the law. It is your duty to advise in the matter, and extend your arm so as to arrest, as the law allows you, the further increase of such immorality. I trust you will be faithful to your mission, and contribute with your legal action to vindicate the laws of the land, to give tone and morality to the masses, and in that manner make our institutions what we all desire them to be—the result of a free, moral, and enlightened political effort.

WHO DID IT.—It is said that John Herrick, a Democrat of Sherman, Wyoming, introduced a bill in the Legislature of that Territory which gave the ballot to women, and a Democratic Legislature made the bill a law. An exchange suggests that the Rads will soon be claiming that it was brought about through them. We admit that to them belongs the credit or otherwise of having enfranchised hundreds of thousands of ignorant negroes, and have no doubt of their intention to confer the same privilege upon the long-tailed, idol-worshiping Chinese, who care nothing for this country or its institutions beyond the money they can make in it and take back to the "Flowery Kingdom." Now in view of this probability, we think it would be well to confer the franchise upon our women, so as to offset as much as possible, by intelligent classes, the evil effects which may arise from placing the ballot in the hands of these ignorant hordes. In this view of the question we are in favor of Woman Suffrage, although we do not believe that women generally desire it. If they do desire it, we say give them the ballot by all means, for we believe that if the Radicals have the power Chinamen will vote in California in less than two years.

TAXES FOR 1871.—The tax roll is now in the hands of the Sheriff who is ready to receive the amounts due, and parties are desired to come forward and settle.

ABSENT.—The editor of the Mail is absent, and consequently that paper is better this week than usual.

Disaster at Pioche--Nearly Forty Persons Killed and Wounded.

Hamilton, (Nev.), September 17th.—Pioche City was nearly destroyed by fire on the night of the 15th inst. The Ely Record publishes an extra giving the following particulars of the disaster:

Last night, between eleven and twelve o'clock, a destructive fire broke out in the rear of Lagrue's Restaurant, which destroyed nearly all of Pioche. It is impossible in this hastily gotten up report to give full particulars of the affair, but it is safe to estimate the loss at between $200,000 and $300,000, on which there is scarcely a dollar's worth of insurance.

The fire is a small affair compared to the loss of killed and wounded which followed in the wake of the ravages of the fire fiend.

Felsenthal & Co. had three hundred kegs of Dupont's powder in what was supposed to have been a fire-proof cellar, and about two o'clock the whole mass exploded, killing six people and wounding thirty-one. Several smaller magazines in the rear of the stores exploded at a later hour.

It is impossible to describe the terror and consternation which prevailed during and after the explosion. Men, women and children rushed about in all directions, seeking lost relatives and friends.

Houses were thrown down and shattered, and the cries of the wounded and dying were pitiful in the extreme.

Following is a list of wounded, as obtained up to eight o'clock this morning: H. D. Beene, John Cullen, Harvy Rice, Jim Waters, Bartholomew Noonan, John Farley, Robert Watts, Archy Mulhern, John Daiken, Charley Williams, Miler Quillan, Wm. Ryan, David Nagle, Miss Gary, French Charley, Rosie Stein, Phil Richards, Wm. H. King, H. G. Tobler, Robert Shannon, David Noonan, Jno. Daugherty, Mrs. Hawrehan, Mike Fay, A. Raney, Fred Haskin, Wm. Stevens, Thomas Kendall, Chris Schultze, W. S. Cotton, and Dennis Sullivan, all of whom were either injured by falling rocks, jarred by concussion, or burned. Many of the wounded will die. There are more injured, but we are unable at the present writing to give further particulars.

The following were killed: Jeremiah Kirby, James Agnew, John Sand, William Dodds, Mike Sheehan, and one other burned so that he cannot be recognized.

The building in which the Record was printed was also burned; but all the material was saved, a portion of the press being only slightly damaged.

Hamilton, Sept. 18th.—A meeting of citizens was held at the City Hall last evening, to make arrangements for the relief of the Pioche sufferers. Over $1,000 was subscribed. An extra stage was dispatched this morning with medicines and provisions. An appeal from Pioche to the neighboring towns is made for aid, especially in drugs, medicines and supplies. Everything in the shape of drugs and medicines was completely destroyed, and the wounded are suffering in consequence. The Jury, in the case of the State vs. Fox, had been locked up on the 15th, but were released, and dispersed on the fire breaking out. One of their number, Wm. Dodds, was killed. A new Jury will be necessary to try the case.

HOW IT WAS ACCOMPLISHED.—The San Joaquin Republican, taking a calm review of "the situation," says:

"It is now evident that if the railroad employees and the 1,800 government employees at Mare Island, had not been forced to vote the Republican ticket or lose their situations, the Democrats would have carried the State by 4,000 majority. Booth cannot feel proud of his victory. He is Governor by permission of the Federal dynasty at Washington, and the Central Pacific Railroad Company, but not by consent of the people of the State. He will reign his brief period of four years, but all the time his conscience will continually remind him that his majority was obtained by forced votes from unwilling voters. The men who sold their principles for bread will live to curse the party whose managers forced them to the humiliating alternative."

STARTLING.—The Washington Chronicle, a Radical journal, published right under President Grant's nose, under the caption of "Frauds upon the Government," makes the following startling announcement:

"The Bureau of Colored Troops, Adjutant General's Office, and several other minor offices of the War Department, are still kept up, although their existence is useless. This fact is covered up, however, by the War Department, which has issued strict orders making it a forfeiture of any clerk's place who shall disclose any information concerning the business of these bureaus."

Confession of Major Hodge, Federal Defaulter for $450,000.

The following is a complete copy of Major Hodge's letter of confession:

WASHINGTON, Sunday, September 10th, 8 P. M. }

GENERAL B. W. BRICE—SIR: I have to inform you that I am unable to close my accounts, and that I owe the frightful amount of about $450,000, which sum I have lost in the last few years in stock speculations, going deeper and deeper in the hope of retrieving myself. I have no excuse or mitigation of my course to offer, and propose to take the full consequences of my sin. I had thought a week ago of escaping from New York, but I believe I have done better in returning here to deliver myself up, as I felt I was bound to do. I can, of course, make no pretense of excuse for the systematic deceit I have practiced on you, and the advantage I have taken of the special position I have held; and I feel that you especially have much cause to be justly inexorable against me. I have been led on by an infatuation that always attends the course I entered on, hoping always to recover my loss and conceal my crime. I believe it is really a relief to be forced to a discovery, for I have been in a hell on earth for years, in the alternations of hope and fear I have gone through, and the constant care to avoid detection was mounting too strong. I desire to turn over any property I have as a small set-off against my deficiency, and after giving any information that will assist in settling my accounts, or, if possible, in recovering a portion of what I have lost, I expect to take the full punishment awarded for my offense. In justice to two parties in this city, through whom I have made some speculations, I wish to say that they are perfectly innocent of any knowledge that I was using public funds. There are small balances with each of these parties to my credit whenever my accounts are closed. The losses I have made were almost entirely in New York, with one house there, whose accounts I hold subject to your order. I endeavored to induce them to make good the amount lost with them, which they knew was public money, but they have refused. I have been trying to make up my mind to this confession for some days, and was on the point of doing so this morning in your office, but I could not bring myself to say it, and wanted time to write to my innocent wife, whom the frightful information will kill. God forgive me for what I have done to her and my children. All I ask from you or the authorities, is that if possible some small sum may be left her. I enclose the keys of my safes and the box containing all my old accounts, etc. My present vouchers, receipts, etc., are in the hands of my clerks, who are all of them perfectly innocent of any knowledge of my deficiency. I shall remain at house No. 1423 K street till informed what action you have taken concerning me. There is no fear that I will go way now. J. L. HODGE.

I do not wish to inform you, reader, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures consumption, when the lungs are half consumed, in short, will cure all diseases, whether of mind, body, or estate, make men live forever, and leave death to play for want of work, and is designed to make our sublunary sphere a blissful paradise, to which Heaven itself shall be but a side show. You have heard enough of that kind of humbuggery. But when I tell you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will positively cure the worst cases of Catarrh in the head, I only assert that which thousands can testify to. I will pay $500 reward for a case that I cannot cure. A pamphlet giving symptoms and other information sent to any address. This remedy is sold by most druggists in all parts of the world. Price 50 cents. Sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of sixty cents, or four packages for two dollars. Beware of counterfeits and worthless imitations. See that my private stamp, which is a positive guarantee of genuineness, is upon the outside wrapper. Remember that this private stamp, issued by the United States Government expressly for stamping my medicines, has my portrait, name and address, and the words "U. S. Certificate of genuineness," engraved upon it, and need not be mistaken. Don't be swindled by travelers and others representing themselves as Dr. Sage; I am the only man now living that has the knowledge and right to manufacture the genuine Dr. Sage's Catarrh remedy, and I never travel to sell this medicine. Probate Notice.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF A. H. WILLARD, deceased; in the Probate Court, Yolo County.

It appearing to the Judge of said Court by the petition presented and filed by GEORGE H. WILLARD, the Executor of the estate of A. H. WILLARD, deceased, praying for an order to sell the personal property remaining of said Estate, and also to sell real estate, that it is necessary to sell some of the real estate to pay the allowance to the family, the debts outstanding against the deceased, the bequests of said Will and the debts, expenses and charges of administration, and that it is to the best interest of all concerned to sell that portion of said real estate described in said petition.

It is therefore ordered by the Judge of said Court, that all persons interested in the said estate appear before the said Probate Court on Monday, the 2d day of October, A. D. 1871,

At two o'clock P. M. of that day, at the Court Room of said Court, in the Town of Woodland, in said county, to show cause why an order should not be made to the said Executor to sell said personal property, and also to sell so much of the real estate of the deceased as shall be necessary, and that a copy of this order be published at least four successive weeks in THE YOLO DEMOCRAT, a newspaper printed and published in said Yolo County.

Dated at Woodland, this 22d day of August, 1871.

JAMES JOHNSON, Probate Judge.

DISTRICT COURT.—This Court has been in session during most of the week. On Monday the following cases were disposed of:

The People vs. Barth—Plea of "not guilty," entered; case set for trial on Friday, 19th inst.

The People vs. Hagar et al.—Set for trial on Thursday 28th. Same vs. Morris et al.—Same order. Same vs. Cook et al.—Same order.

Lowe et al. vs. Woodward—Demurrer overruled; set for trial Wednesday, 27th.

Griffin vs. Yolo County, and Covel vs. same—Demurrers overruled; continued by consent.

Powell vs. Plant—Foreclosure of Mechanic's Lien; decree entered.

On Tuesday the following cases came up:

McClintock vs. Dinwiddie et al.—On motion of defendant's counsel, dismissed, plaintiff failing to amend complaint within the time allowed by the Court.

Clark vs. Clark—Demurrer overruled; 5 days to answer.

Ralston vs. Cal. Pacific Railroad—Set for trial on Monday, 25th inst.

Dresback vs. Wristen—Plaintiff granted leave and 10 days to amend, on payment of fifty dollars, counsel fees and cost of term; cause continued.

On Friday, 22d inst:

Beamer vs. Head—Motion of plaintiff's counsel for default denied, plaintiff excepting.

Clark vs. Clark—Motion of plaintiff's counsel for alimony denied.

Wright vs. Carpenter et al., Wright vs. Roseberry et al., Wright vs. Husted, and Wright vs. Elbes et al.—All continued at cost of defendants respectively. Adjourned till Monday.

HEAVY TRANSACTION.—The California Pacific Railroad Company on the 9th of August, ult., completed their arrangements for the issuance of one million six hundred thousand dollars worth of bonds, to be negotiated by F. D. Atherton and Milton S. Latham, Trustees, and used in making repairs, double track, etc., upon all their lines between Vallejo and Sacramento and Marysville, and between Adalanta and Calistoga. The transaction appears in the County Recorder's office as recorded September 12th, and shows that the capitalists mean work, or in other words, that it will soon become necessary to additionally increase the prices of freight and transportation and to lower the prices paid their workingmen. Cheap labor triumphs, and every hour adds to the certainty that the rich shall find it easier to make money than formerly, while the poor will be made to know that their lives shall become the monotonies of the tread-mill and that their doom is eternal poverty.

A HOME ENTERPRISE.—We have received from J. S. Henning, one of his maps of Yolo county. Upon examination we find that it is as complete in every respect as it could possibly have been made at the present time. It is finished in excellent style, and all the workmanship on it, except the lithographing, has been done in Woodland. Instead of having his maps mounted in San Francisco, Mr. Henning has had his rollers made at our own factory, purchased his cloth, varnishes, colors, brushes, etc., from our own merchants, and the whole of the workmanship has been done in Woodland. It is truly and wholly a home production, shows well for the artists of Woodland, and deserves the praise and patronage of our citizens.

CAPITAL HOTEL.—There has recently been a change in the proprietorship of the Capital Hotel. The lease of Messrs. Eaton & Burns having expired, the popular hotel has been taken in charge by Mr. A. S. House, a well known citizen whose past experience in the business makes him a favorite with the traveling public. The Hotel has been thoroughly refitted, and is now prepared for the reception of guests. Mr. House has secured the services of a popular clerk. Under the supervision of these gentlemen we predict that the Capital will be thronged with appreciative patrons.

FRESH FISH.—Mr. Marks has placed us under obligations to him for a fine lot of perch and salmon. Those in want of fresh fish can hereafter obtain them at his establishment, opposite the College, every Tuesday and Friday, fresh from the city.

GOING DOWN.—The Water Company is still sinking the well, which at last accounts had reached a depth of over 400 feet with favorable indications.

APPORTIONMENT OF SCHOOL FUNDS. Superintendent Darby has made the following apportionment of moneys to the several districts in the county. The amount apportioned is $2,214 40, State funds, among 2,104 children, being $1 10 per child. There is still left in the Treasury to the credit of the School Fund $1,100 84.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

$500 Reward offered by the proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh remedy, for a case of Catarrh which he cannot cure. Sold by Druggists, or by mail sixty cents. Pamphlets giving symptoms and mode of treatment, sent free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

VENUS herself would not have been beautiful if her complexion had been bad. If beauty is skin deep, it is necessary to secure and retain that part of it; and ladies, instead of resorting to paints and powders, should remember that an impure, blotchy, or sallow skin is the proof of feeble digestion, torpid liver, or vitiated blood, for all of which Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters is a safe, sure, and effectual remedy.

EXUBERANT health is a blessing vouchsafed to a few. Even those who have been favored by nature with strong constitutions and vigorous frames are apt to neglect the precautions necessary to preserve these precious endowments. Indeed, as a rule, the more healthy and robust a man is, the more liberties he is inclined to take with his own physique. It is some consolation to the naturally weak and feeble to know that they can be so invigorated and built up by a proper use of the means which science has placed at their disposal as to have a much better chance of long life, and exemptions from disease and pain, than the most athletic of their fellows who are foolish enough to suppose themselves invulnerable, and act accordingly.

It is not too much to say that more than half the people of the civilized world need an occasional tonic, to enable them to support the strain upon their bodies and minds, which the fast life of this relentless age occasions. In fact, a pure, wholesome, unexciting tonic is the grand desideratum of the busy millions, and they have the article in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is a staminal medicine, i. e., it imparts permanent strength to weak systems and invigorates weak constitutions. Its reputation and its sales have steadily increased. Competitive preparations have been introduced ad libitum, and, as far as the public is concerned, ad nauseum, in the hope of rivaling it; but they have all either perished in the attempt, or been left far in the rear. It has been the great medical success of the present century, and it is quite certain that no proprietary medicine in this country is as widely known, or as generally used.

Ten lightening presses, running incessantly (Sundays excepted,) the whole year through, barely supply the demand for the Illustrated Almanac, in which the nature and uses of the preparation are set forth, the circulation now being over eight millions a year. sep

CARRIAGE AND WAGON MANUFACTORY! CORNER MAIN AND FOURTH STS., Opposite Gas and Water Works. WOODLAND, CAL.

LIVERYMEN, FARMERS AND TEAMSTERS Will find my make of BUGGIES, SPRING and LUMBER WAGONS, the best in any market for their use.

REASONS WHY:

BECAUSE they have as good if not the best reputation at home. Each Wagon is perfect in all its parts.

BECAUSE my prices are as low as the lowest for first-class work.

BECAUSE I can furnish the highest home testimonials as to their durability and lightness of draft.

BECAUSE none but the best and most experienced mechanics are employed in their construction.

BECAUSE they are built upon scientific principles, combining the greatest strength with lightness of draft.

BECAUSE wherever introduced they are generally preferred by Liverymen, Farmers and Freighters.

BECAUSE they are made in a very DRY CLIMATE, and from that fact are far superior for service to those built in more moist or damp parts of the country.

BECAUSE I give rules for taking care of carriages.

First—The carriage-house should be apart from the stable, as the ammonia arising from horse manure will in a very short time destroy the varnish on a carriage, and then the owner ignorantly charges the carriage maker with using inferior varnish.

Second—In washing a buggy cold water should be used freely, so as to remove the dust and mud before using the sponge and chamois skin.

Third—Never turn the hose under or on the seat, for the water will loosen the canvass and glue, and cause the corners to give way and the body to go to pieces.

Fourth—To preserve the wood and save expense, the carriage should be kept thoroughly painted and varnished.

Fifth—I am better prepared than ever, to Paint, Ornament and Varnish Carriages, Wagons, etc. I have in my employ the best of buggy painters, and use none but the best articles of paints, oils and varnishes; the above in connection with my Paint Shop and Varnish Rooms, which are as good if not the best on this Coast, being hard finished and free from dust. I can, and have turned out as smooth, clean and nice finished jobs as can be done in the State.

Sixth—Those wishing to get their buggies, carriages, etc., repaired and painted, will do well to call at my shop and examine my superior advantages over other shops. I am willing to abide by the injunction, "by their works ye shall know them." I am willing that my work shall praise me; I ask no other endorsement. This endorsement I have had in past years; this I expect to merit and maintain in the future.

The Safest and Best BLOOD PURIFIER IN USE.

A Certain cure for Rheumatic and Mercurial affections, Scrofula or King's Evil, Salt Rheum, White Swellings, Tumors, Ulceration of the Bones, Liver and Kidney Complaints, Neuralgia, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Female Weakness and Obstructions, and all the Diseases arising from an Impure State of the Blood

This preparation is absolutely free from any Mercurial or Poisonous substance. It is prepared after careful experiment and a long and wide experience in observing the effect of the different ingredients. It possesses the priceless quality of effecting by its quiet and gentle action a gradual and thorough Purification of the blood. The strongest will find it a searching and INFALLIBLE CURE.

The most delicate female or child can take it with impunity, and the remarkable success attending its use warrants the Proprietor in claiming it as the best family remedy in use.

Dyspepsia and Constipation Are immediately relieved by this compound; its steady and gentle operation gives nature the required assistance, and in a short time the organs are sufficiently invigorated to perform their functions without artificial aid.

AS A SPRING MEDICINE IT IS INVALUABLE, Removing that sluggish, dull feeling which the winter often leaves in the system, banishing all skin eruptions and making the complexion clear and bright.

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

JUDGE S. HEYDENFELDT says: "My attention was called to it about eighteen months ago, when I had been suffering with rheumatism for more than a year, and had failed to find relief from other remedies. The YERBA SANTA relieved me entirely in two days. Some ten or twelve cases of Rheumatism, two cases of Gout and two cases of Neuralgia have been relieved within my immediate knowledge." R. M. SINTON says: "I fully concur with Judge Heydenfeldt in regard to the curative powers of YERBA SANTA. I have myself used it, and take pleasure in recommending its use to those afflicted with Rheumatism in any of its forms." T. J. JENKINS, M. D., (Physician to Butte County Hospital,) says: "I have used YERBA SANTA for some years in my private practice as physician. I have found it invaluable in cases of Chronic Rheumatism, and of much benefit as an alterative BLOOD PURIFIER and tonic." FRANK MATHEWS, of Oroville, says: "Some years since, I was a martyr to Rheumatism, crippled in hands and feet, unable to move except with crutches, at all times suffering great pain. I was induced to try YERBA SANTA. I soon experienced great benefit from its use, I am at the present time strong and healthy indeed. I recommend all who are afflicted as I was to try it." CHAS. WALDYER, of Cherokee, Butte county, states: "For many years a sufferer from Rheumatism in its most painful type I sought relief in vain until I was induced to try the YERBA SANTA, when I found perfect restoration to health. I have recommended it to my many friends, and in all cases a perfect, a speedy cure was the result of its use." J. R. ROBERTS, of San Francisco, says: "I had for three years been afflicted with the Rheumatism, to such an extent that in all that time I was unable to do any work. I was at last induced to try YERBA SANTA; after using two bottles I was completely cured, and am now as well as I ever was in my life." M. H. DARRACH (County Clerk of Butte county,) says: "I have seen much of the beneficial effects of YERBA SANTA in Scrofula, also in Salt Rheum, Rheumatism and Neuralgic affections. I believe I know of no instance where it has failed to cure." YERBA SANTA completely restores the system when impaired by disease, revives the action of the kidneys, and radically cures scrofula, Salt Rheum and all eruptive and cutaneous diseases. It is PURELY VEGETABLE, being made from an herb indigenous to California. It is therefore peculiarly suitable for use by Females and Children, as a Blood Purifier and Renovator. YERBA SANTA is for sale by all dealers in family medicines.

LIFE.

We're born; we laugh; we weep;
We love; we droop; we die!
Ah! wherefore do we laugh and weep,
Why do we live or die?
Who knows that secret deep?
Alas, not I!

Why doth the violet spring
Unseen by human eye?
Why do the radiant seasons bring
Sweet thoughts that quickly fly?
Why do our fond hearts cling
To thoughts that die?

We toil—through pain and wrong;
We fight—and fly!
We love; we lose, and then ere long,
Stone dead we lie.
Oh! life is all one song—
"Endure—and die!"

The Johnson Process of Brandy Making.

[From the Sacramento Reporter, Sept. 1st.]

New enterprises are constantly coming before our people, and each adds its influence to the wealth and prosperity of the city. Every manufactory started carries with it a greater or less amount of benefit to the public, because it gives work to a greater number of persons and adds to the amount of money received by citizens which would otherwise be paid to outside parties. The latest enterprise that has been started here is that of the Johnson Brandy and Wine Manufacturing Company. The company is a stock company and is managed by the following officers: President, Henry C. Kirk; Secretary, James I. Felter; Treasurer, L. Powers; Trustees—Henry C. Kirk, Jefferson Wilcoxson, L. Powers, George Johnson, William E. Terry and W. R. Waters. These gentlemen, with a large number of others, have formed an incorporated company for the manufacturing of grape brandy in this city, the first time that it has been attempted here. The grape growers of this vicinity have found it very difficult to find a market for their grapes at a fair price, but they will now be able to dispose of them to their entire satisfaction, and save the expense of shipping.

The building which is to be used for the distillation of brandy is located in what is known as Brannan's Addition, on blocks 3 and 4, between S and T streets. It is 30 by 80 feet, a part of it being three stories high. It is built upon the most economical plan, so far as labor saving is concerned, and so arranged that there is no extra handling of materials. The machinery, which arrived here on Wednesday, was built by William Neil, of San Francisco, and the best that could be obtained in the State. It was made under the direction of George Johnson, and is known as Johnson's distilling apparatus. The boiler, which is placed outside the building, is fifteen feet long and forty six inches in diameter. It furnishes steam for the still and to drive the machinery that hoists and crushes the grapes, and does all the pumping.

The capacity of the still is great. There are sixteen vats, holding four thousand gallons each and four vats holding seventeen hundred gallons each. The column is a wine chamber column sixteen feet high. The still has a capacity of turning out sixteen hundred gallons of brandy per day, from wine. There is a water pump, with a capacity of throwing three thousand gallons per hour, and a wine pump, with a capacity of throwing thirteen hundred gallons per hour. They are both force-pumps, and in case of fire they can turn the two streams of water on the fire the same as a fire engine.

The process of distillation is very interesting, and we will attempt to give a description of it. The grapes are received on the side of the building next to the railroad track, from the cars or from wagons, a drive having been built around the building which enables teams to drive close up to the rear. They are hoisted up by an incline plane, to the third story. There they are put through the crusher, and fall into a tub underneath with a false bottom. The wine is drawn off from this tub, by a hose, to the different fermenting tubs, and the skins are shoveled in to a car and run along a railroad track and dumped into a fermenting tub, the tubs on the second floor being used for the skins entirely, and the tubs on the lower floor being used for fermenting the wine. Water in sufficient quantity is then added to the tubs in which the skins are placed to complete the fermentation. After the fermentation is over, the wine is run off to the wine-charger, or still. After the skins are thoroughly drained they are again shoveled into a car and run to the still. After the distillation, or after the spirits have all been extracted from the skins, a man-plate at the bottom of the still is let down and the skins discharged. The vapors from the still pass upward to the column, and on their passage up the column the temperature is reduced by a current of water passing through pipes, and spirits of any desired proof are run off at one operation, being freed from fusil-oil and æscetic ether to any extent desired by the operator. The spirits, on leaving the column, are condensed in the usual worm tub, and come out of the condenser pure brandy. The percentage of spirit in the still makes no difference in the proof at which it is brought from the column or the condenser, as it is only necessary to use more water through the pipes to make the percentage greater, and by regulating the temperature of the column the operator knows to a certainty the proof at which the spirits will pass through the condenser. The water, which is heated in passing through the column, is used about the building for washing tubs, etc., so that no heat is lost.

It is well worth the while of any one to take a look at the working of this manufactory after it is running, which will be in about two weeks.

THE Detroit River Tunnel was commenced about September 1st. The necessary funds have been secured, organizations on both sides of the river have been effected, and the City Council have adopted and the Mayor has approved an ordinance giving the right of way through and under the streets. Mr. Cheesebrough, the engineer of the Chicago tunnel under Lake Michigan, will have charge of the work. The plan contemplates really three tunnels. Two of these, 18½ feet in diameter, running parallel and 50 feet apart, will be for railroad purposes. This plan is deemed preferable to a single tunnel with double tracks. The third tunnel will be below and midway between the other two, and will have an interior diameter of five feet. This small tunnel will be constructed first, to develop the character of the soil and will be completed before work on the railroad tunnels proper is commenced. The entire length of the tunnel, not to include the approaches, will be about two miles, and its estimated cost nearly $3,000,000.—Lansing Republican.

Gross Assets, Jan. 1st, 1870, $10.510.824!

No. of Policies Issued in 1869, 13.072.

AMOUNT INSURED IN 1869, $50.492.941.

Insures at as LOW RATES as are consistent with safety to the Company and the assured.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States was organized in 1859, with assets amounting to $120,772, and issued in that year 277 policies. In 1869, the number of policies issued was 13,073; amount insured, $50,-592,941; total assets Jan. 1st, 1870, $10,510,824.

The Equitable has outstripped all other Companies in the amount of business transacted, and never had but one case of litigation, and in that case it was no fault of the Company, but because of different parties claiming the amount the policy called for.

THE DOMESTIC Sewing Machine!

A New Favorite in California.

The Domestic Sewing Machine has just been introduced into this State, and is now offered to the public. It makes the Shuttle or Lock Stitch, alike on both sides, uses a straight needle, and its range of work is from the heaviest to the most delicate fabric, sewing every kind perfectly. It has a self-adjusting tension, which requires no alteration in changing the thread, or in sewing different thicknesses. In simplicity and durability it is unequaled. One great advantage in this machine is, that it will sew over thick seams without difficulty.

The Domestic Stands on Its Merits Alone,

Which have secured it large sales wherever it has been introduced. It combines beauty of appearance with easy, quiet action and perfect work.

THE DOMESTIC SEWING MACHINE is furnished in various styles, the prices ranging about with those of other first class machines.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Among the great discoveries of modern science, few are of more real value to mankind than this effectual remedy for all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. A vast trial of its virtues, throughout this and other countries, has shown that it does surely and effectually control them. The testimony of our best citizens, of all classes, establishes the fact, that CHERRY PECTORAL will and does relieve and cure the afflicting disorders of the Throat and Lungs beyond any other medicine. The most dangerous affections of the Pulmonary Organs yield to its power; and cases of Consumption, cured by this preparation, are publicly known, so remarkable as hardly to be believed, were they not proven beyond dispute. As a remedy it is adequate, on which the public may rely for full protection. By curing Coughs, the forerunners of more serious disease, it saves unnumbered lives, and an amount of suffering not to be computed. It challenges trial, and convinces the most sceptical. Every family should keep it on hand as a protection against the early and unperceived attack of Pulmonary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incurable, and too often fatal, if neglected. Tender lungs need this defence; and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of childhood, CHERRY PECTORAL is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts speedily and surely against ordinary colds, securing sound and health-restoring sleep. No one will suffer troublesome Influenza and painful Bronchitis, when they know how easily they can be cured.

Originally the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, no cost or toil is spared in making every bottle in the utmost possible perfection. It may be confidently relied upon as possessing all the virtues it has ever exhibited, and capable of producing cures as memorable as the greatest it has ever effected.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring to Gray Hair its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. It soon restores faded or gray hair to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, so that a new growth of hair is produced. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the formation of dandruff, which is often so uncleanly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre, and a grateful perfume.

The Great Medical Discovery!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

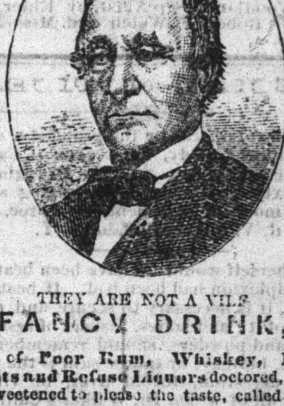

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands

Bear testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

THEY ARE NOT A VILE

FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Billious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION. Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth Billous Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle.

History of Sacramento.

Sacramento City is, comparatively speaking, a small place, alongside of most of the cities in the United States. Were it not for the indomitable perseverance of its inhabitants, it would long ago have been among the things that were. It has had severe fires, sweeping the whole city out of existence; but only to be rebuilt again. It has been flooded a number of times, destroying hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property, but still it lives and prospers. It is a well-known fact that it was the perseverance of Sacramento people that built the Central Pacific Railroad. Most all large California enterprises have originated in Sacramento. Many of the largest mercantile houses on this coast obtained their start in this city. It is now proposed to organize a Free Labor Exchange. This is not a local institution, but will benefit not only the whole of this State, but also Oregon and Nevada as well. This Gift Concert has been chosen as the most feasible manner to raise a fund large enough to place the Labor Exchange on a sound basis. The enterprise has been undertaken by some of Sacramento's best citizens, who have the requisite perseverance and nerve to carry it through successfully.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

DR. GIBBON'S DISPENSARY,

No. 632 Kearney Street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, Weakness, Impotency, etc., etc. Skin diseases of years standing, and Ulcered Legs, etc., successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON

Has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Seminal Weakness

Produces with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves or rattling chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, pimples and various eruptions about the face, hectic flushes, furred tongue, fœted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, you should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure.

Cure at Home.

Persons at a distance may be cured at home, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, lenth of time the disease has continued, and have medicine promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use. By inclosing $10 in coin, in a registered letter, through the Post Office or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

A package of medicine will be forwarded express to any part of the Union.

Persons writing to the Doctor will please state the name of the paper they see this advertisement in.

Private entrance on Commercial street.

All communications strictly confidential.
